

Dear Ms Manderson

Thank you for your earlier correspondence. As you are aware, the City has been in receipt of complaints regarding the property of which you are the occupant. The submission refers to the keeping of chickens, resulting in odours being released onto neighbouring properties. An inspection was undertaken on Thursday 5 July 2018, where multiple non-compliances with the City's Animal Local Law 1999 were identified. A letter has been sent to your address regarding these matters, and a further copy is attached onto this e-mail. I have also attached an extract of the Animal Local Law 1999 which describes the requirements regarding the keeping of poultry on residential premises in greater detail. This has been included as an attachment in the printed letter en route to your residential address. -

If you have any further queries, please do not hesitate to contact me further.

Yours Sincerely
